PERSONAL PROJECTS

1. "Evaluation of Absorbency of Cotton Dyed Materials" (10/2018 - 04/2019)

- This project has been carried out from IIHT (Indian Institute of Handloom Technology) Kannur, Kerala, India.
- It is intended to form a basis for enabling fabric engineers to choose the most suitable analytical test method(s) when developing new fabric products with respect to performance, the availability of resources, time for testing, the type of fabrics to be tested and the accuracy and precision required.

2. "Effect of Precipitated Calcium Carbonate on Hardness and Elongation at Break of Strap Compound" (03/2015 - 02/2016)

- This project has been carried out from RUBCO Hawaii Chappal Factory (Kerala State Rubber Co-operative Limited) Kannur, Kerala, India.
- Examination of the effects of different chemical compounds result the improvement of quality products. Thus here I checked the effect of precipitated calcium carbonate in the slipper's strap mixture, and after carrying different tests and examinations, I finally concluded how this compound effects the quality of slippers.
